

DIA Member Benefits

Being a member of DIA offers enhanced access to comprehensive information about current and vital information related to health products, technologies and services. DIA is committed to helping our members be successful professionally, and to helping foster innovation to improve health and well-being worldwide. Membership ensures you can access DIA's global forum of information easier, quicker and more cost effectively.

As a DIA Member, did you realize that your membership includes all of the below benefits and more?

DIA Daily - This daily newsletter features summaries of breaking news in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device fields gathered from thousands of global news sources.

Members-only conference registration discounts on over 200 DIA courses and offerings across the globe and online.

Members-only free archived webinars - Take advantage of a hot topic webinar as a complimentary member benefit—without leaving your desk.

Therapeutic Innovation & Regulatory Science - New in 2013, DIA's peer-reviewed, scholarly journal (formerly the Drug Information Journal) including 40 years of indexed and archived scientific articles—all available online. (6 issues)

Global Forum - your member digital newsmagazine featuring practical tips, regulatory and global updates. (6 issues)

Contract Service Organization (CSO) Directory - searchable vendor and support services directory.

Communities - DIA's Communities (formerly Special Interest Area Communities)—discipline specific groups that network regionally and globally, share best practices, knowledge resources and the latest information related to your field—all online and available 24-7.

DIA Online Member Directory - Network locally and globally via DIA ConneX—your platform for sharing documents and discussions, connecting with colleagues and developing your own network of colleagues and industry thought leaders.

Knowledge resources at www.diahome.org featuring videos, podcasts, presentation downloads, publication archives, and robust searching and sorting tools to get the information you need, when you need it.

---

All of DIA's global stakeholders receive the below complimentary resources:

SmartBrief - Two times per week, receive the latest news and information related to diagnostic and therapeutic product innovations.

Career Center - Search for employment opportunities and submit your resume, all confidentially and online.

Is it time for you to renew your membership?

If so, please go to www.diahome.org/renew.

If you have any questions about your membership or membership status, please email membership@diahome.org.

